

Harrow Camera Club

Installation of ImageCompPro v18.4

ImageCompPro Version 18 is by Roy Moore of Maidstone CC (the author), and these instructions are specific to Harrow Camera Club (the licence holder)

The original author has given permission for local developments to be consolidated into his version and for the resulting versions to be made available to others, free of any licence.

Multiple installations are feasible as long as all are kept up to date.

Media

- The software was originally downloaded from the approved site using the club's account and password for the licence. This download is no longer available but the original download can be reused.
- A second download (version 18.4.1) is an update.
- A separate folder called ImageCompPro_Extras has locally created patches and other content.

Installation using original media

ICPro18.4 is best installed after removing all previous versions.

Before uninstall, any local contents of the folder ...\\code\\archive must be saved and should be pasted to the same location in the new version.

Basic:

From the download

- Unzip 'ImageCompPro_18.4'
- Double click on the setup file icon. The software is installed at C:\\ICPro18
- Also install the 18.4.1 update.

Additional Media:

From the download, unzip 'ImageCompPro_Extras' and place it in a suitable location.

This folder contains:

- A folder of patches for the current version 18.4
 - Apply all version 18.4 patches using the specific instructions for each patch. These can be done individually in sequence, or a composite patch folder is available.
- A folder for use on the desktop, which also includes documentation.
 - Copy 'ICPro desktop folder' to the desktop and rename as ICPro.

Future Patches

Future patches and documentation changes should be installed as they become available.
